

What Is Claimed Is:

1. A cosmetics case comprising:

5 a case body formed with thresholds protruding from two positions on both sides of upper portion inside the body;

a cover formed with hook grooves corresponding to the thresholds in two positions on outer surrounding wall of the cover;

10 a fixing member fitted inside a knob to be secured on bottom portion thereof; and a cosmetic aids fixed and integrated to the cover by a ring type holder at bottom portion of the fixing member.

15 2. The cosmetics case of claim 1, wherein the hook grooves are formed in only one direction to allow the thresholds to be assembled to and released from the grooves in the only direction, and both of the hook groove and the threshold are formed on two positions outside the cover and inside the body, respectively.